SUMMARY

Synopsis of Bill

Senate Bill 735 appropriates $100.0 from the general fund to the Community Corrections Grant Fund for the purpose of expanding housing assistance for male and female parolees, provided by a corrections vendor located in Albuquerque or Santa Fe.

FISCAL IMPLICATIONS

The appropriation of $100.0 contained in this bill is a recurring expense to the general fund. Any unexpended or unencumbered balance remaining at the end of a fiscal year shall not revert to the general fund.

NMCD reports housing is a part of any parole plan. If an inmate has no place to parole to, the parole plan will be denied and the inmate will serve the parole time “in-house.” NMCD states it is significantly more expensive to house inmates than it is to supervise parolees. NMCD reports they currently spend somewhere between $150,000 and $250,000 on housing parolees.

SIGNIFICANT ISSUES

NMCD reports inmates who violate conditions of their parole are revoked and returned to prison. NMCD states passage of the proposed legislation would reduce the chance of the parolee violating his/her parole and being sent back. Currently, about half of the approximately 5,500 parolees live in Albuquerque and Santa Fe.

NMCD states inmates transitioning out of prison can use the time on parole to adjust to life in the larger society. This time to transition reduces the likelihood of re-offending. NMCD reports if an inmate is forced to do parole time in-house, they lose the benefit of this transition period and are more likely to re-offend.

ADMINISTRATIVE IMPLICATIONS

NMCD states there maybe a slight increase in administrative burden related to investigating and determining which “correctional vendors” are eligible to receive this funding. Also, NMCD reports there is a slight administrative burden in balancing the concerns of housing groups of parolees together for easier monitoring of activities with the possible increase in the chance of recidivism.

CONFLICT, DUPLICATION, COMPANIONSHIP, RELATIONSHIP

The proposed legislation is a duplication of House Bill 278.

OTHER SUBSTANTIVE ISSUES

NMCD reports the private prison annual costs of incarcerating an inmate is $23,160 per year for males. The cost per client to house a female inmate at a privately operated facility is $24,961 per year. NMCD reports the cost per client in Probation and Parole for a standard supervision program is $1,527 per year. The cost per client in Intensive Supervision programs is $4,256 per year. The cost per client in department-operated Community Corrections programs is $4,495 per year. The cost per client in privately-operated Community Corrections programs is $10,022 per year. The cost per year for male and female residential Community Corrections programs is $22,019.
